The delegation explained the vital issue of the Ummah and introduced Hizb ut Tahrir, stating that it advocates for the revival of Islamic life by establishing the Khilafah Rashidah (rightly guided Caliphate) upon the method of the Prophethood. They emphasized the necessity of working towards this aim, considering it obligatory upon Muslims worldwide. He affirmed that no Muslim would disagree on this matter, saying, "For the first time, we meet a political party whose aim is to uphold the word of Allah, unify Muslims, and not chase after transient authority."

The meeting concluded with Nazir Hamed Kantabai, expressing gratitude to Hizb ut Tahrir for this unique visit. He admired the clarity of their vision, stating, "We are proud that you have considered tribal leaders. We, in turn, will inform our people about this great endeavor."
